Reception of the Body

The priest sprinkles the body/coffin with holy water.

V. The Lord be with you.
R. And with your spirit.

I bless the body of our sister Miriam with the holy water that recalls her Baptism, of which Saint Paul writes:

All of us who were baptised into Christ Jesus were baptised into his death. By Baptism into his death we were buried together with him, so that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might live a new life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall also be united with him in a resurrection like his.

Lord, we humbly ask your mercy. Accept the soul of your servant Miriam. Forgive whatever sins she may have committed through human frailty. Free her from the bonds of death and admit her into everlasting life.

Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

First Reading · Wisdom 3:1–9

A reading from the Book of Wisdom.

God accepted them as a sacrificial burnt offering.

The souls of the virtuous are in the hands of God; no torment shall ever touch them. In the eyes of the unwise, they appeared to die; their passing looked like a disaster, their leaving us like annihilation; but they are in peace.

If they experienced suffering as people see it, their hope was rich with immortality. Their affliction was slight, but great will their blessings be. God put them to the test and proved them worthy to be with him. He tested them like gold in a furnace and accepted them as a sacrificial burnt offering.

When the time of his visitation comes, they will shine out and run like sparks through dry stubble. They shall judge nations and rule over peoples, and the Lord will be their King forever.

Those who trust in him will understand the truth; those who remain faithful will live with him in love, for grace and mercy await those he has chosen.

Reader: The word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm · Psalm 23

Response: The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

The Lord is my shepherd; I lack nothing. He gives me rest in green pastures and leads me beside peaceful waters. He renews my strength and guides me along the right path for the honour of his name.

R. The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

Even though I walk through a valley dark with death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me. Your rod and your staff are beside me, and they give me courage.

R. The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

You prepare a table for me in the sight of those who oppose me. You anoint my head with oil; my cup is filled to overflowing.

R. The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

Surely goodness and mercy will follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for length of days.

People: Glory to you, O Lord.

“Do not let your hearts be troubled. Put your trust in God, and trust in me as well. In my Father’s house there is room for many. If that were not so, I would have told you. I am going to prepare a place for you.

And when I have gone and prepared a place for you, I will come again and take you to myself, so that you may be where I am. You know the way to where I am going.”

Thomas said to him, “Lord, we do not know where you are going; how can we know the way?”

The coffin may be sprinkled with holy water and incensed.

With faith in Jesus Christ, we reverently bring the body of our sister Miriam to Christian burial. Let us pray with confidence to God, who gives life to all things, that he will raise this mortal body to the perfection and company of the saints.

May God give her a merciful judgment and forgive all her sins. May Christ, the Good Shepherd, lead her safely home to be at peace with God our Father; and may she be happy forever with all the saints in the presence of the eternal King.
